CHÂTEAU DE BEAULIEU

AOC Entre-deux-Mers - White

LOCATION

The Entre-Deux-Mers appellation covers 1500 ha between the Dordogne and Garonne rivers and produces around 88 000 hl per year of dry white wine. Over the years, these two rivers have left layers of sand, gravel and clay, which criss-cross with older limestone rocks. The vineyard is planted on high ground, where the numerous streams have carved out the slopes. Made mostly from Sauvignon and Sémillon (sometimes with the addition of Muscadelle) the white wines of the Entre-Deux-Mers are fruity and acidic, giving a pleasant sense of freshness.

PRESENTATION

Château de Beaulieu has been run for three generations by the Rion family, founder of the main cooperative winery of the appellation in 1934. Today, the Château is owned by the Farges family.
